Asia's first-ever conference on cervical cancer a spectacular success

First time IFCCPC 2020zone is hosted in Asia
IFCCPC working towards elimination of cervical cancer by 2030
Emphasis on importance of timely screening and vaccination

The 17th World Congress of International Federation of Cervical Pathology and Colposcopy (IFCCPC 2021) organized by the Indian Society of Colposcopy and Cervical Pathology from 1st July to 5th July was a spectacular success. This prestigious event was held for the first time in Asia in the 50 year of history of this international organization. It was a proud moment for India to host the first virtual conference of IFCCPC which was attended by more than 1,000 delegates and speakers from over 42 countries all over the world. Numerous experts in the field, including gynaecologists, gynaec-oncologists, pathologists and microbiologists attended the conference. There was enthusiastic participation by renowned researchers, world famous experts, medical students, nurses and also by policy makers from Government of India.

By Dr Puneet Chandna

CERVAVAC is termed as a quadrivalent HPV Vaccine. The mechanism of a human papillomavirus vaccination is to elicit an immunological response to India's first locally produced vaccine against cervical cancer is called CERVAVAC the Serum Institute of India (SII).

How do HPV vaccines work? What are they, and how do they work?

Human papillomavirus (HPV) vaccinations guard against infection brought by more than 200 closely related viruses. More than 40 of these are transferred via
